Method of Correction

Quick and loud "eh eh", or hand clap to get attention. Corrects very well.

Small Dog Safe

Correctable

Comments (Small Dog)

Great with our beefy french bulldog, other medium to small dogs she is great with, but very small fluffy dogs who bark a lot are a little too interesting, like a squirrel.

Cat Safe

Not Sure

Comments (Cat Safe)

We do not have cats. She is marked as safe on her original profile and at the meet at greets she is interested in the cat enclosure but redirects well. May be cat correctable depending on the situation.

Good With Young Children

Yes

Comments (Young Children)

Previously lived with 2 small young children.

Turn Out Routine

Twice in morning, before we go to work at 7am, twice when I come home from work at Noon for an hour lunch and anytime after 5:30pm when we are home for the evening. Has a yard to use for bathroom breaks.

Potty On Lead

Yes

Garbage

She can and will get into the garbage if given the opportunity. She can open can lids, so either have a hidden can or placing a heavy book on the garbage has helped tremendously. She is a bit of an opportunist, if she thinks you are gone she will go straight for the can. Even if you are sitting in the other room. She is smarter than she seems!

Stairs

Great! We live in a tri-level and the dogs must use stairs to go outside.

Floors

She likes to use rugs on hard floors.

Counters

She will counter surf if given the opportunity, we are working with her to stop this habit. She has only gotten anything off the counter once while we were cooking and she is no longer allowed in the kitchen while we are prepping food. She has taken the correction well and waits outside the kitchen until we give her the ok.

When is the hound crated?

- Not Crated At All

How does the hound handle being crated?

We crated at first for a few days, she did wonderful in a crate during the day. No issues.

What does the hound enjoy?

She loves cuddling, treats and being with her family.

Does the hound have any fears?

No fears as of now.

What type of temperament does the hound have? (Shy, outgoing, confident, etc.)

Gal is bubbly, loving and easygoing.

How does the hound handle new situations?

She does well as long as she has someone she can trust with her. Having a confident owner who can guide her would be best.
